SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

The ZEMCH 2016 conference is the 5th important international gathering of green global architects and developers for Zero Energy Mass Customised Housing. With their academic research background, the community as a worldwide operating network tries to present research-based new viable systems as contribution to curb global warming by green and energy efficient building technology.

ZEMCH 2016 is an interdisciplinary learning forum encompassing a variety of topics related to housing, taken from a holistic perspective: e.g.

- Social, and Economic Sustainability
 - Environmental Sustainability
- Sustainable Design and Construction Management
- Sustainable Mass Customization and Personalization
 - Value Analysis and Visualization
 - User Behavior and Choice
 - Digital Fabrication and IT
- Renewable energy and Technology
 - Building Technology
 - Commercialization
 - Organization issues
- Aesthetics
- Education and Policy issues
 - Sustainable Housing
 - Low/Zero Energy Housing
 - Prefabrication
- Building Performance Evaluation/Simulation
 - Energy Efficiency in Buildings
- Building Information Management/Modelling (BIM)
 - Sustainable Real Estate/Development
 - Mass Customisation
 - Green Economy and Policies

ZEMCH is an acronym of Zero Energy Mass Custom Home aiming to tackle issues arising in the delivery of socially, economically and environmentally sustainable built environments in developed and developing countries, which accommodate people with different socio-economic backgrounds that relate to ages and abilities.

ZEMCH Network was established in 2010 after a number of international industry-academia collaborative study tours were organised in order to observe the state-of-the-art production and sales facilities of leading low to zero energy or carbon dioxide emission sustainable housing manufacturers
